

CHICAGO TRIBUNE, THURSDAY, MARCH 5, 1970

WOMAN'S PLACE IS IN . . . ?—Two women brown belts may find housework a little easier than facing each other on the mat. The women, Geri Brija, New Lenox (up), and Betty Engess, Bollingbrook, were competitors recently in the first state championships of the Art of Self Protection. Miss Engess was the winner of this match in "technical sparring." The contests were held in the West Suburban Y. M. C. A., Ogden avenue and Mannheim road.
